

OCTOBER PECC NEWS UPDATE

Bradley Sprague BSN, RN, EMT-P

Brad has worked at Oishei Children's Hospital since 2008, he started in the Pediatric ICU and Emergency Department where he worked as a Critical Care RN for five years. He then joined the STAT Transport Team where he has worked since, now in the position of Team Coordinator. In this role he transports patients from newborn to adult, and assists with trauma patient stabilization. He also works part-time with Mercy Flight WNY as a Flight Nurse, and on their ground division, Mercy EMS, as a Paramedic. He has been part of the prehospital health care community for over 16 years. In August 2019, Brad became Mercy Flight WNY's Pediatric Emergency Care Coordinator!

Upcoming Educational Opportunities!

Vital Signs EMS Preconference Session- Pediatric Disaster Education: Manikins and Beyond in Buffalo, NY - October 25, 2019

NYSBEMS is hosting a 4-hour long pediatric simulation training presented by: Mark Cicero, MD, Barbara Walsh, & Angie Bowen. Simulation bridges the gap between classroom learning and real-life experience. Simulation helps individual learners and teams acquire disaster-specific knowledge and skills that focus on injury and illness, policies and activation protocols, resource utilization and psychosocial issues. In this workshop, participants will hone their skills in video games, tabletop, and live simulation education. Registration for the the preconference session is $75.

Pediatrics Assessment CME, Nov. 20

Southside Hospital will be offering monthly non-core CME lectures to Emergency Medical Service Workers. To register, please go to: <https://bit.ly/2oBI70I>.

PALS Provider Course

Upstate Medical University EM-STAT is hosting a series of PALS courses. Courses are scheduled to take place, frequently. More information can be found on their website at: <https://bit.ly/2n8R2GI>.

All educational opportunities can be found on our website at: <http://www.nyspecc.org/education.html>
